When a student has a contagious illness (Flu, Ring worm, Air borne illnesses, etc...), upon notification they are expected and encouraged to be out temporarily. However, if a student injures him or herself outside of class or inside of class, that injury is not an excuse to stay out of class. Learning occurs at all levels; even when one has a broke or strained limb, their ability to understand, teach, and learn remains in tack. Students are expected to continue their classes.

This membership agreement is based on an annual agreement unless otherwise specified, which means that your fee will remain the same over the term.
